I'VE BEEN THINKING. I've been thinking, I've been thinking, What a curious world we're in ; Men are sleeping, eating, drinking, Just as they have always been : Beaux are strutting, dandies quizzing, Misses toiling night and day-Boys are sporting, girls are frizzing, Grandmahs fidgeting away,

Tom is crying. Mary singing, Jack is laughing merrily-Dust is flying, teabells ringing, These have music sure for me; Peasants toiling, rich men riding, Staring with a lordly phiz, Rogues through every crowd are gliding, Zounds! how queer a world it is.

Marrying some, in marriage giving, Others like the world of old, All but me are feasting, living, Would that wives were to be sold! Others have their dears in plenty, And their bosoms heave with love-I've had chances, ninteen, twenty, But I dare not one improve.

Brokers shaving, sheriffs dunning, Politicians pull your sleeve; Printers scolding, wits are punning, Jail birds begging for reprieve; Preachers warring, idiots ranting, Bacchus too hath devotees; Yonder wretch your wife's gallanting, What a deuced fool he is.

Lawyers spouting, clients listing, Doctors pratling of their skill; Patients groaning, school boys whistling, Striving all old Time to kill; Pedagogues of science telling, Milliners of pretty things-Lovers stroll with bosoms swelling, Listening while the night bird sings.

Clouds are lowering, tempests howling, Friends suspect-foes are glad; Children screaming, mistress scowling, Merry bosoms now are sad; Presto! they are gone forever, All is gay as it has been ; Sunbeams shine, the girls-Oh never!

LAYS OF THE HEART. I miss the when at mattin prayer Thy vacant place I see; I miss thee in the daily toil I used to share with thee. Thy smilling lip is cold and still, Thy step is heard no more-And all is dark and dreary now, Where all was joy before.

I miss thee when the Sabbath bell Calls to the hour of prayer; I miss the voice in sweet response That used to echo there. And when the sacred volume doth Our vesper thoughts engage, Who reads us now its heavenly truths, Who now expounds its page.

I miss thee in the vacant seat Beside the cheerful hearth ; I miss thee in the circle where Thy look alone gave mirth; And when unseen the widow weeps-The orphan pleads in vain, And pride and avarice turn aside-Oh! how I maiss thee then!

I miss thee at the festive board When Christmas friends drew near; And when the jocund glee went round, I could but shead a tear.

They sung thy song of other times, With chorus mild and deep. I missed thy voice in concert there, And stole away to weep

FROM COLUMBUS.

We have been politely favored with the perusal of a letter from Governor Schley. 1 menloyment at reasonable Terms by by which we learn, that the whole army an early application to the subscriber. had been armed and equipped, and took up the line of march down the river, on the Georgia side, with a view to encounter the Indians in the region of Roanoke, and to strengthen all the posts in that quarter by placing at each, an adequate force to meet any emergency; and also that twelve hundred Indians had come in THE subscriber, intending to remove to the and surrendered at Fort Mitchell, among which were one hundred and fifty armed warriors, the balance being old men, women and children.

We are indebted to the attention of our vigilant Representatives, Col. G. W. B. Towns, and C. E. Haynes, for the following letter from the Secretary of War:

The measure contemplated by the ad ministration as developed in the Secretary's letter, will meet the most cordial approbation of the people of Georgia, as well as of those States, bordering on the coun- amine the land, &c. as a bargain will be given try inhabited by the Cherokees.

It will give confidence and security to our citizens, and avert the calamities which have befallen those of Florida and Alabama.

Federal Whig Flouts .- The old federalists always flouted the republicans and called them "demagogues, vagabonds, rabble." The fact was that the old federal party feared and hated the very word republican, and the principles it implies .-The panic whigs of '34 have the same feelings. They also fear and hate, and in some cases drop altogether the name "republican"-and they call the republicans "patent democrats, India rubbers, vagabonds," and such like odious names. These things are to be expected, and they show the real feelings of the authors,-For the naked truth is that the leading federal whigs hate democratic principles just as much as the federalists did. And they cannot conceal their feelings, but vent them in the same spiteful way their predecessors used to do. These few remarks are not made, however, because any fault is found with the federal whigs-for they have the same right to their principles and numerous names, that republicans have to theirs. But these things are said chiefly with the view of illustrating the principles and views of the panic whigs, and to show the striking likeness between the whigs of 1834, and the old variety of numbers, at federalists. This likeness is quite as great as is usually seen between parents and children .- New Haven Register.

Great Northern and Southern DAILY MAIL ROUT

THE Petersburg Rail Road company inform the public that their road, extending from Petersburg, Virginia, to Blakely, North Carolina, on the Roanoke, a distance of ol miles, and constituting a part of the Great Daily Mail Route North and South, is now amply provided with superior Locomotives and Cars, to accommodate all the travel that may offer. The Cars leave each end of the Road daily, on the arrival of the respective Mails. Travellers with their own equipages, can have their horses and carriages transported on this Road, with perfect safety and convenience; and thus perform in 5 or 6 hours, while resting their horses, a journey that would otherwise require two days to accomplish. The Blakely Hotel at the southern termination of the rail road, has been re-built of brick on ar enlarged scale, and no pains will be spared to ren der its accommodations such as will give satisfaction to passengers and travellers generally.

Besides the daily line of Mail Coaches from a week, connected with the Mail Line at Fay etteville, and also a line from the Rail Road a Belfield to Clarksville, Milton and Danville. Another tri-weekly Line from Blakely, passe through Warrenton, Oxford, &c. and connects with a line to Salisbury, N. C. In the course of the present season, a branch will be opened from the Petersburg Rail Road at Belfield, to Wilkins' Ferry at Gaston, on the Roanoke, from whence a Rail Road to cross the river by a bridge, is now about to be construct ed to Raleigh. The Rail Road from Baltimore to Washington is now in operation, thence to Potomac landing-the line is continued by Steam-boats; thence via Fredericksburg to Richmond, a considerable portion of the Rail Road is finished; and th remainder is in a rapid course to completion The line continues from Richmond to Peters burg, by a turnpike road; and thence by th Petersburg Rail Road to Blakely, as before men-tioned, is the main and only Daily Mail Route beween Boston and New Orleans. 13t97 March 12
